DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statements (IDS) filed on 05/08/98 complies with the provisions of MPEP § 609. The information referred to therein has been considered as to the merits. (see attached form).

Drawings

2. This application has been filed with informal drawings which are acceptable for examination purposes only. Formal drawings will be required when the application is allowed.

Specification

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2777

5. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01.

Claim 1 has no metes and bounds. The body of the claim is not tied to the invention as set forth in the preamble. The preamble of the claim sets forth a method for utilizing a custom playlist. However, the body of the claim merely the steps of creating the custom playlist and providing the playlist to an actuator device without detailing a logical series of steps that amount to the utilization of the custom playlist. As claimed, the invention encompasses any and all manners of utilizing the custom playlist.

6. Claims 2-25 are rejected for fully incorporating the deficiencies of the base claim by dependency.

Double Patenting

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 2777

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 1-25 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-24 of copending Application No. 09/074,681. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter. Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Art Unit: 2777

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

9. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

10. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Douma et al, (Douma), US Patent no. 5,990,884.

As to claim 1, Douma discloses the creation of a playlist on an external device (col.2, lines 47-49 et seq). Further, Douma discloses the transfer of the custom playlist to a digital audio/visual device (col.2, lines 54-61 et seq).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2777

12. Claims 2-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Douma et al. ('Douma' hereinafter), U.S. Patent No.5,990,884, as applied to the rejection of claim 1 above, in view of Montoya et al ('Montoya', hereinafter), U.S. Patent no.5,949,688.

As to claim 2, Douma substantially discloses the invention including a PC having a CPU, a storage medium and audio visual accessing capability (col.4, lines 1-8, et seq). Douma also discloses a communication link between the PC and the recording device (fig.1, item 22). Additionally, Douma discloses a GUI for allowing users to interface with the recording medium (col.5, lines 12-15, et seq). Douma does not particularly detail the addition of the selected tracks to a CD by saving the identifier of each of said selected track on said CD to thereby generate a customized playlist thereon. However, Montoya discloses an analogous system for allowing customers to compile a series of desired tracks on a CD recording unit, whereby a customer scans the available titles and selects the desired tracks therefrom to thereby generate a desired playlist on the CD (Please see abstract, et seq). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art of data processing to combine the teachings of the cited references. Montoya's teachings would have allowed users of Douma's system to be able to customize a CD according to their volition.

Art Unit: 2777

As to claim 3, Douma discloses the collection of tracks to be obtained by the actuation device from an external source (col.3, lines 52-56, et seq).

As to claims 4, 8, Douma discloses the reading of table of contents of each source medium to obtain information about the plurality of tracks (col.4, lines 30-41, et seq).

As to claim 5, Douma discloses a two way communication link with the external device (fig.1, items 24, 28, et seq).

As to claim 6, Douma discloses the Internet as the external information source (fig.1, item 22, et seq).

As to claim 7, Douma discloses searching a plurality of tracks for titles and track names stored in the DB of a PC (col.4, lines 1-4, et seq).

As to claim 10, Douma discloses the downloading of the selected file to the actuation device over a communication link, whereby said downloaded file is stored locally on the actuation device (col.6, lines 21-26 et seq).

Art Unit: 2777

As to claims 11-13, Douma discloses cable, infra red and wireless as possible communication links (col.6, lines 41-50 et seq).

As to claim 23, Douma discloses the retrieval and selection of information about a plurality of tracks that are available to be added to a custom list (col.4, lines 14-28, et seq). Further, Douma discloses table of contents (TOC) for identifying each disk or tape and the tracks available thereon (col.4, lines 37-41, et seq).

13. The limitations of claims 9, 14- 22, 24-25 have already been addressed in the rejection of claims 1-8, 10-13 and 23 above. They are therefore rejected on similar grounds.

Conclusion

14. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Please see attached PTO-892.
